Senator Owens Calls Meeting

Senator J. C. Owens, chairman of the executive committee for the promotion of a Tri-County Ferry Service from the Marin county—Richmond shores, has called for a meeting of the committee at the Oakland Chamber of Commerce building for Saturday, May 9, for the purpose of trying out boats and making other necessary arrangements for the establishment immediately of a permanent and adequate ferry service. In this connection the new service which starts from Richmond to Sausalito Sunday is to be considered.

The San Francisco Chronicle of yesterday intimated that Senator Owens had the said ferry service concealed about his person and that both he and the boats were lost, strayed or stolen, and that the detectives were on the trail of them. To this the Senator replies that he has recently been engaged in a warfare with certain Huertas, Villas, Carranzas and that it had been necessary for him to use the boats in blockading many Marin and Contra Costa county ports and seeing to it that they fire salutes of twenty-one guns to the flag. Now, however, that the peace envoys and plenipotentiaries of the people have been victorious he states that he is willing and anxious to return the boats to the placid waters of a commercial ferry service, and invites everybody in interest to get busy and help boost the Marin-Richmond ferry project to a success.

WALL MAKES A GENEROUS OFFER TO MUNICIPALITY

It now looks as if the City of Richmond is to have a new city hall and one of which its citizens will be very proud. Since there has been opposition in some sections to the removal of the old school house on the ground that it is not suitable for a city hall and further that the cost of fitting it would be very expensive, things took a new and decidedly pleasing turn today when George S. Wall, the owner of the Harbor Center tract, gave out the information that he was willing to meet the council and the citizens of Richmond more than half way and would dig down in his pocket and present what he considered a very liberal proposition of the cost of a new building.

In speaking with a representative of the Record-Herald Mr. Wall said: "I have been thinking this matter over and considering all of the arguments that have been raised in relation to a new city hall, and have decided that I will make a proposition to the city council next Monday evening that will meet with all objections raised and ought to solve the problem. I am willing to donate to the city of Richmond $4000 in cash to go toward the cost of erecting a building on the new city hall site, to cost $12,000 and if the council feels that it has not sufficient money available for the purpose I will loan them the additional $8000 necessary."

"I have an architect at work now drawing plans for a building that will house every department of the city. It will be 60x70 feet in dimension, two stories in height and will be of stucco exterior, which will present a very pleasing appearance. It will provide a large and airy council chamber rooms for the police department, clerk, auditor, assessor, city engineer, health department, emergency hospital. This will mean that all of the departments of the city will be housed together, which will make it very convenient for every one concerned."

"By letting a contract in the near future the building could be ready for occupancy by next October, at which time the lease on the premises that the city now occupies will expire."

The city taxes on the land while it was in acreage, that is now known as the Harbor Center tract, last year, was $1405, and the increase in taxes that will come by the cutting up of the property in lots, will very likely more than provide the extra amount that will be needed for a new city hall, in addition to the money that Mr. Wall will donate to the city.

School Election to Be Held Tomorrow

Tomorrow will be a day of excitement in Richmond. The municipality will not only be in the hands of the Elks, but a hotly contested school election will be on the boards.

The candidates for a place on the board of education are James N. Long and M. A. Hays, both well known to the people of this city and each is determined to win at all hazards.

It is expected that the vote piled up when the ballots have been counted tomorrow evening will be in excess of any school election held in this city in the past.

BERKELEY MAN ARRESTED ON ERROR; FREED

BERKELEY, MAY 1.—George C. Dable of 1525 Ashby avenue, who was arrested Tuesday morning and taken to Richmond because of his alleged connection with a burglary in that city, was released later in the afternoon. Dable was arrested on his way to work by Policemen Ingersoll and Davis.

William Pizzano of 1804 McGee avenue was arrested the evening before, and when examined by the police mentioned Dable as one of his associates. Not knowing Dable's address, he said merely that he lived in Berkeley, and as a consequence George Dable was arrested. When brought face to face with Pizzano in Richmond, Pizzano said that Dable was not the man wanted.

"To Observations Which Ourselves We Make, We Grow More Partial, for the Observer's Sake."

Richmond Keeps Growing

COL. THOS. S. REES,
Who surveyed the Richmond
Harbor for the U. S. Govern-

This scribe has been a member of the Denver Press club for a long number of years, and of the San Francisco Press club for quite a while before coming to Richmond, and so occasionally we drop in at the club headquarters in the Commercial building when at San Francisco and chat with the boys who make the great metropolitan newspapers. They are a good bunch, up one side and down the other, but sort of flock by themselves when off duty, and constitute a little Bohemian world of their own. Happening in there yesterday we found that the Press club had just issued a pre-exposition number of their magazine, "The Scoop," a creditable publication and of much interest to newspaper men, and much to our astonishment we found the following quaint and characteristic writeup of Richmond in it, it being especially conspicuously noticeable because of the fact that it was nicely illustrated and no other town or city was given a writeup in the whole publication. Therefore we take pleasure in reproducing it herewith. Under the above caption "The Scoop" says:

Just to give it balance, a magazine such as this, with all its jest and jollity should carry a little development matter—something that shows how communities in California grow. In looking about for a subject a committee decided that there couldn't be found a better example of progress than Richmond, where the dairy herds nipped the cowslips ten years ago and today there is a city of 18,000 people, with paved streets—the city, you know, not the people—steel and brick buildings, recall elections and crusades against boys smoking cigarettes, just the same as in a metropolis.

The statement has been made that the committee picked Richmond as the example because in addition to having the Standard Oil refinery and the Pullman shops, it has among its other big plants the largest winery in the world—Winehaven. While members of the Press club will remember with pleasure certain trips to this winery, where grape juice flowed freely at the al fresco luncheons at the hotel on the hill, it is not because of this that Richmond is held up as a star exhibit of development. Grape juice doesn't generate undue enthusiasm. Richmond has delivered the goods. It has got there by jumps and is still going ahead with kangaroo leaps.

Because of its many big factories and shops, its harbor development and the progressive spirit of its live business men, who are making the most of all the city's natural advantages, you can see Richmond as one of the biggest factory seaports on this coast, after the Panama canal opens, and this without paying Winehaven a visit, either.

It is so short a time ago that Richmond broke the shell that we can all remember it, even the beardless journalist with his first assignment. To the veteran newspaper man it seems like yesterday when he heard the big announcement in coast railway history, that the Santa Fe would make Richmond its terminus on the Pacific coast. Right then nearly everyone knew that a city of fortune would spring up, for the site was already on the main line of the Southern Pacific and there was at this point some of the finest natural deep water frontage on San Francisco bay. Many a newspaper man dreamed himself rich, but didn't get further. In 1901 a straggling, frontier-like village sprang up that was known as Point Richmond. It got something of a shock by becoming the setting for the Wolgast-Nelson championship fight, but staggered to its feet again, reestablished its moral reputation by conscientious effort, and as the city of Richmond, all settlements being incorporated into one under that name, has stepped forth into the world as California's fastest growing municipality.

The worst thing about the Wolgast-Nelson fight was that it drew a good many thousand strangers to the new town, just at a time when it was in its worst stage of disorder. The rains had muddled the roads—paved streets were not known there then—and everything was generally sloppy.

"Why this is remarkable," says the sports that attended the Waterloo social of Bat Nelson, when they visit Richmond today. "Wouldn't think such a city would grow here in such a short time. Paved streets in every direction; steel buildings, fire department, police and fire alarm system, big schoolhouses, plenty of churches to go round, government building more harbor—say this town is going faster than Nelson did."

When you look at what Richmond has to grow up, though, you are not surprised that it had no place in the census of 1900, had 6280 by the census of 1910 and has something like 20,000 now, figuring from school enrollment, though 18,000 is probably about the right figure.

The Standard Oil refinery alone, listed at $17,000,000, would make a city. It will be the biggest refinery in the world with 5000 or more men at work, in another five years, they say. The Pullman car shops, Western Pipe and Steel works, porcelain ware factories and bathtub plant, Santa Fe shops, can factory, Arctic Whale Oil works, Union Tank Car shops, furniture factory, foundries, Winehaven and other industries, help make a big payroll in Richmond.

The new city has a belt railroad five and a quarter miles long that extends from the two transcontinental railroads along the natural deep water, where the wharves and piers of several of the big plants are located. There is forty-five feet of water at the Belt railroad wharves, 1000 feet long. The biggest vessel in the world can float at these wharves.

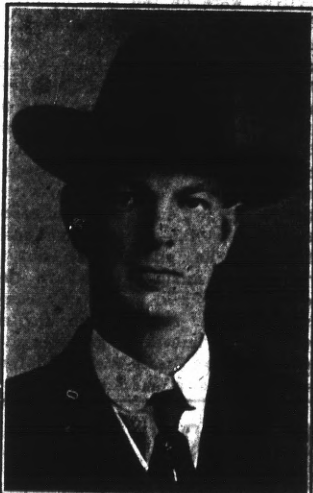

Richmond is the second port in California in point of water tonnage. The people there have quit guessing what it will be after the Panama canal opens.

The selection of Richmond as one of the examples of new city development in this fast developing state also gives the opportunity to publish a portrait of one of the most courteous, popular and efficient army officers stationed at San Francisco, Lieutenant-Colonel Thomas H. Rees, Chief of Engineers, U. S. A., on the Pacific coast. San Francisco bay development has a valiant champion in Colonel Rees. His general East Bay Harbor plan has been approved by all the commercial bodies in the various cities.

Colonel Rees surveyed, and recommended Richmond's inner harbor, which has been approved by the Army Board of Engineers for rivers and harbors at Washington, making it a government project. Congress appropriated $428,000 this year. It is hoped to get at least $1,000,000 from the federal treasury. The city has voted $1,170,000 in bonds and will vote more.

Because of its unusual merit and its necessity and through the aid of Colonel Rees and Congressman Charles F. Curry, known to almost every newspaper man in San Francisco, the Richmond harbor project was accepted by the government in a space of time that beats all records in such matters.

The anti-savine, "Inaraz hell," is still ant.

CONTRA COSTA COUNTY NEWS

CROCKETT

Crockett is in a gala attire, same as Richmond, only one is holding a great May Day fete and the other a roundup of a million Elks. They are having the time of their lives there, and dedicating the new children's playgrounds donated by the people in conjunction with the big sugar refinery. One stunt that will be pulled off during the festivities will be the unveiling of a monster electric letter "R." This will be in honor of Superintendent Rolph of the sugar refinery, who has done so much for Crockett and who has been very active in the provision of this public playground for the children. Rolph is a live one and of inestimable benefit to Crockett and to all of Contra Costa county. Great crowds are to be in Crockett Saturday, attending the May Day festivities, and a fine program has been prepared, ending at night with a monster ball. Many people from all around the bay region will divide up their time Saturday between Richmond and Crockett, taking in both events, half a day each.

On Friday evening of this week there will be held a meeting of the booster element of Crockett, for the purpose of reorganizing the local progressive club and getting busy along the lines of securing more manufacturing industries and other things of general benefit. This meeting will be addressed by the editor of this paper, who will urge upon the people there the advisability of being in on the big Contra Costa exhibit he is putting in at San Francisco. The movement has the endorsement of Mr. Rolph of the California-Hawaiian Sugar company and of the leading business men of the town. Editors Laidlaw and Stevenson are also boosting like the good men that they are.

We intend to go up and meet with them on that occasion and tell them of a few pertinent facts along those lines which we have learned while skidding around on the outside. Martinez is one of the best little towns on this earth, surrounded by an agricultural country second to nothing anywhere, with a fine waterfront and a location, climate and environments that should make everybody up there rich and happy citizens of a big city and intensely thriving and populous surroundings. The next five years are going to be fraught with big things for Martinez, providing its people put their shoulders to the wheel of progress. In fact, so sure is this that they can't very well help it, unless they lock the door and throw the key in the Carquinez straits.

PITTSBURG

Pittsburg is getting histrionic and dramatic. Last week a theatrical performance was given in Civic Center hall by local talent, the play being "The Nazarine," under the direction of Mrs. W. C. Littlewood.

It was pronounced a success and was well attended, and was given a second time this (Friday) evening in order that the children of the town could attend.

At the Contra Costa Bank of Pittsburg D. A. Bender has been succeeded as president by W. E. Creede, of San Francisco. Mr. Creede is a son-in-law of C. A. Hooper, the lumber magnate, and stands high in financial circles in this section of the state.

There are two things we suggest to the good people of Pittsburg, which we think they ought to do. First, organize a good, strong, active chamber of commerce and get its shoulder to the progressive wheel, in order that the outside world may become acquainted with Pittsburg's unexcelled resources as an industrial town. Second, a big boost edition of the Post, in which these industrial conditions and the business opportunities will be written up at length and illustrated. Pittsburg, as we understand, is a thriving and growing little city of nearly 5,000 inhabitants, with numerous manufacturing interests, a great fishing industry, canneries, lumber interests, steel and iron interests and quite a ship building industry. It has water and rail connections and is surrounded by a rich and prolific country. All these things Pittsburg owes to itself to make known to the hundreds of thousands on the outside who would like to know, and would like to invest, but never can or will invest if they do not know, and are not mind readers, but have to be told. We would like every town in Contra Costa county to have its boost club make arrangements with its local paper to publish a couple of columns each and every week of good, live boost articles, chuck full of information about the industries of their town and the surrounding country, and send us a few hundred copies of the paper each week for distribution in San Francisco to the hundreds of thousands of people we expect to address and to whom we are to show a large and permanent exhibit of Contra Costa county. If you have not got a boost club, then organize one, and arrange with your local papers to have this done, and pay them for it. We will do the rest, and the rest means that many industrial institutions will be brought to this county, thousands of new settlers and millions in money. Lots of that stuff we will be glad to reproduce in our papers here, for Richmond wants to see every town in Contra Costa county grow and flourish. The more they grow and flourish the more Richmond and everybody in Contra Costa will grow and flourish. Wake up, you fellows up country! This is a fast age and things are doing every minute! Much is to be accomplished, and you have every possible incentive for action! People are flocking to California by the hundreds of thousands and will so continue to flock all

SUBJECT OF EARNEST REMARK ON CONSERVATION

President Wheeler, of the University of California, has written the following bit of literature for the handbook on Conservation just issued by the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction for the use of the teachers and the schools of the state:

"This small revolving globe we dwell upon has been used as a home by us humans, by us and our ancestors, for a goodly row of centuries. But we were too few and weak to master it and put it clean beneath our feet. It mostly got the best of us. Of late we have come to get the best of it. It used to thwart us and steer us, and tell us what we must do. Now we tell it what we want to do, and make it do it for us. We have fettered its strengths with steel and made them work for us. We force its down-hill waters to carry us up hill. We use its own treasures for fuel to belittle its size and dignity; to curb it and humble it, and even to reshape it.

"This is all very well, but of late men have been finding this robbing and humiliating of the prostrate body of nature so easy and so interesting as to make it a form of sport. They rob and exploit without reference to any present need, just to show what they can do. It is like the killing of the buffaloes for the fun of shooting, until all at once it appeared they were practically exterminated.

"This generation will have for one thing at least a great name in history. Men of the future centuries will surely call it the generation of the great destroyers, and historians and economists will write of the riotous days of nineteen hundred, when the people used up all the petroleum, all the natural gas, all the anthracite and most of the other coal, and most of the handy iron. It will be the period when the forests were cut down or burnt up, the lands stolen, and the waters given away. We are sure to be the subject of earnest remark."

This extract gives an idea of the purpose of the book—to urge upon the coming citizens of the state the necessity for wise and economical use of our resources of fuel, soil, water and forest, upon which our power and prosperity must depend for many thousands of years into the future. It contains a hundred pages and many striking photographs. It has been sent out to the teachers, and may be obtained from any county school superintendent or of Superintendent Hyatt at Sacramento.

The compensation of the postmaster at this office was $432 for the last fiscal year.

"Age limit, 21 years and over on the date of the examination, with the exception that in a state where women are declared by statute to be of full age for all purposes at 18 years, women 18 years of age on the date of the examination will be admitted.

"The examination is open to all citizens of the United States who can comply with the requirements.

I WANT TO SHOW YOU RICHMOND

The Fastest Growing city in the world

I want you to SEE where about $50,000,000 has been spent in large factory enterprises in twelve years, from which there is a payroll of over $500,000 put in circulation every month. I want you to know that it is the second largest shipping point in California, and that its tax rate is the lowest of any city in the State.

I have some extra good investments, on EASY terms, bought from or owned by buyers who HAVE TO SELL.

Remember the great Cutting Boulevard is 110 feet wide, is being graded its full width and the track material is now on the ground and the S. P. ELECTRIC CO. will soon begin to lay the tracks and it will soon be operating. Electric cars are now operating on Ashland Avenue which is destined to be an important business thoroughfare, as it is the only thoroughfare between the east and west side of the city.

Have you got $200, $500 or $1,000 Dollars that you wish to invest? If so, communicate with me and ask for a personal interview, as soon as possible, for I am going to give some one, who is wise enough to know when a snap is offered them, an extra good one.

I wish to confer only with those who have money and who have in addition to it one of, or all of the following conditions of mind.

One who has acquired knowledge by experience and observation.

One who knows that location makes values.

One who is wise enough to know that similar and assured conditions are sure to cause and produce the same results in the future that they have in the past.

One who knows that the closing paragraph in the above article are facts, and who knows that the municipal tunnel is now being built at an expense of $250,000 by the city.

I am ready to call on or meet any one at my office by appointment, and confer with them if I find they have the money and are willing to buy if I can prove that my offer is a good investment, I will then submit to them a few lots on or near the Great Cutting Boulevard and Ashland Avenue, which the above said I have been running in the Richmond and San Francisco papers, together with circular letters sent to my friends and acquaintances in interior towns, has caused me to buy lots that I am unable to hold, or that I am now offered and unable to buy, which I know and can prove to anyone are a good investment at even double the price I'm in a position to sell them for, however, as the present owners have been paying monthly installments for 2, 3 or 4 years it requires a few hundred dollars to buy their equity.

ELKS AND BOOSTERS COMING DOWN THE TRAIL

W. McLaughlin to get out of the way and give him room to light. Rowell, by the way, is a prince—all kinds of a Prince.

McLaughlin is shown on top of East Richmond Heights, proclaiming to the world that RICHMOND IS THE PLACE! Coming over the hills in the distance is General Veale shouting in a megaphone to all the other Elks to not start the fun until he arrives. Ben Schapiro is riding a big elk and is evidently making a loud noise about something or other, likely about Elkdom and Richmond real estate combined.

Henry Cutting looms up as large as life and twice as natural, up to his middle in the marsh along the inner harbor waterfront and gestulating with both arms, proclaiming to the world that Cutting Boulevard is destined to knock the spots off of New York's Broadway in just a few more days, and maybe in a few minutes. Wernse looms up on the hills overlooking San Francisco bay, making a speech, evidently to the city council, and saying vehemently, "Gentlemen, We Must Act at Once!"

Colonel Rheen is seen standing on the Standard Oil hills over to the west, with the big $15,000,000 oil refinery on a silver platter, making it a present to Richmond and the world. He looks good natured about it and just as though he would like to bring $15,000,000 industries to Richmond every day in the year.

George Wall is shown in the timber along the edge of town, with a regular Huerta-Villa rifle, evidently stalking a big bull elk nearby. He is remarking that he intends to have that elk stuffed and mounted on top of the new municipal civic center building to be erected on the Wall Harbor Tract, but coming around a neighboring rock is Mayor Otto Ludewig, also with a gun, and with evident designs upon that elk himself, for he is shouting at Wall and telling him that the elk would bring $5 a pound if sliced up on the butchers' block.

H. G. Biggs, the big quarry man whose middle initials are B. P. O. E., arises out of the scenery with a cable-slot smile that looks like a slit in a pumpkin—he carries a prospector's pick and is remarking that there ought to be a lot of fine bluerock around here somewhere that he and Anson Blake could grind up and throw at any knocker of Richmond that dared to stick his head up out of the grass.

Major-General Bill Bailey is seen in the foreground, pushing along a personally conducted excursion train over the Belt Railroad. He says it is his P-Ant Special, and that nobody can ride on it but Bill Elks and Boosters. A lot of pessimists are fleeing for their lives to get out of the way of the train, which is making much smoke.

Councilmen Joe Willis has struck an attitude, and is explaining to the crowd, as he points to a red fire alarm box, that if any Elk gets in a famishing condition because of undue thirst all he needs to do is to turn in an alarm from the red boxes and the city commissary patrols will rush to their aid with copious supplies of thirst alleviators especially prepared for the occasion.

Doc'tor C. R. Blake is right there with the goods. He has a fly-swatter of large and dangerous dimensions, and is busily engaged in swatting every fly that has the temerity to light on the bald head of any visiting Elk.—Doc has blood in his eyes, as well as on the swatter.

Winchaven looms up just over the hill, looking mighty inviting to the travel-stained and thirsty Elks who have stampeded from their home paddocks and across the hot sands of the desert to the pleasant pastures of Richmond, and some of them are keeping an eye peeled in that direction, evidently having grape juice in mind.

John Nicholl is sitting on top of a big oil derrick, holding down the oil well so the invading Elks will not fall down into it or tear it up by the roots and carry it away. In the distance also appears T. Park Jacobs, astride of Nicholl Nob, talking real estate to the man in the moon and anybody else that can be induced to stand still a minute.

City Engineer Chapman and Contractor Carrillo are digging the municipal tunnel with both hands and both feet, each busy with pick and shovel. Engineer Haviland and Councilman Garrard are taking an arm off of each other about the municipal tunnel, inner harbor and wharfs, evidently saying that if these Elks don't like this harbor they will throw a lot of 'em in it

MARY PICKFORD
Who will star in "The Good Little Devil," feature films at the Richmond Theater today.

"THE GOOD LITTLE DEVIL" RICHMOND FEATURE, TODAY

Tonight is the night that the favorite of favorites and the star of stars is to be seen at the Richmond theater.

Daniel Frohman presents this wonderful actress, Mary Pickford, by arrangement with David Belasco, supported by William Morris and Ernest Truax in the master stroke of Belasco's producing genius, "The Good Little Devil." The greatest artistic drama of the present decade visualized in five reels, and as clean as a whistle all the way through and so keen that one look at it serves only to whet the appetite for another. Whatever you do not fail to see this picture. No one could be disappointed with such a rendition as this one.

As a special feature for the vaudeville show on Sunday, the management of the Richmond theatre has secured the well known and popular professional comedienne of Richmond "Kitty Walsh." Come and see this great Irish laugh manufacturer.

A GOOD WORD FOR MR. HAYS

Not unmindful of the fact that tomorrow will occur an election for school trustees the Record-Herald takes this method of putting in a good word for Mr. M. A. Hays, who is a candidate for election as a member of the board of education of this city. We have known Mr. Hays for many years and believe he will make a most excellent official if chosen by the electors of the city for the important position of trustee. Both candidates are honorable and intelligent men, but in Mr. Hays the people of this city would get a most efficient and reliable member of the board of education. Mr. Hays has been a resident of Richmond since pioneer days and has given the best part of his life to the uplift and advancement of the city. He is careful, conscientious, and is a man of very high character. Remember Mr. Hays when you mark your ballot.

WANTED—Large, clean, cotton rags at the Record-Herald office.

All over the picture, in amusing and interesting stunts is Congressman Curry, Ed. Berg, Sergeant Ruiz, John Bouquet, Senator J. C. Owens, Councilman Pollett, Editors Hall, Galvin, Kennon, Hulaniski, Messers, Dietrich, Martin Jodet, Al. Sullivan, George Meese, Paul Edwards and a dozen other boosters and active spirits, all up to some kind of mischief.

Mr. Dean is going to have a large photograph taken of the painting, and in the meantime he invites all the visiting and other Elks to drop in and see themselves—also Moose, bull or otherwise, and any other live-wire human or animal, with or without horns, and if any of them need fixing he will feel their pulse, or hoots and horns, and prescribe an appropriate and pleasant remedy.

FERRY STEAMER WILL CARRY MANY TO SITE

The directors of the Municipal Water commission, at their meeting held in the city hall last evening, completed arrangements for an inspection trip which they will make to Tolands Landing on the Sacramento river the latter part of this month.

A campaign committee composed of City Attorney Hall, A. J. Timmons, J. B. Willis, J. S. Chandler and Engineer Tibbetts were selected to arrange for the securing of a Key Route ferry boat for the purpose of carrying people to and from Tolands Landing.

Untrimmed Shapes representing the entire sample lines of a number of the leading factories of this country; also the surplus stocks of several jobbing houses—all of whom look to a store like Gerwin's, with a purchasing power and outlet that is unlimited, for the disposal of such large quantities.

The values speak for themselves—you will readily see that the choicest of this season's blocks, braids and colors are included; also pretty Trimmed Hats, splendid Panama Hats and good values in Children's Hats.

The assortments have taxed the capacity of our large basement department for display and we must apologize if you find the tables seemingly too crowded with the thousands of Hats piled as high as possible. Plenty of extra experienced salespeople will be on hand.

A WORD TO THE MAN WHO NEEDS NEW CLOTHES

There's a big bunch of you—thousands of men in Oakland—need new clothes every day. But all can't buy them, because a big proportion of them haven't the necessary money in hand.

How would you like to buy a spring suit on installments? Wouldn't it be a big convenience for you to pay $10 down on a suit and pay off the rest by the month? If this interests you, go to 528 13th St., between Washington and Clay Sts., tomorrow and take a look at Cherry's Credit Store.

For $25 you can get a corking fine suit at Cherry's. Mr. Cherry himself goes to New York several times a year and selects his entire stock. Everything is the newest and best of the season.

Just for luck, go to Cherry's tomorrow—they are open Saturday nights. You'll be surprised at the bunch of men you'll see there, getting fixed up with spring clothes. The stores are all conveniently located. At 528 13th St. is the men's store, while just across at 515 is the exclusive women's store. The San Francisco stores are at 1008 Market and 2400 Mission Sts., handling both men's and women's wearables. Los Angeles address is 636 So. Broadway.

LIBRARY SCHOOL TO OPEN NEXT FALL

The California State Library School in Sacramento, the first library school of its kind in California, is making preparation for the opening of its second year of work, in September, 1914. The progress of the present class has fully justified the establishment of the school, and to provide students for the coming year, announcement is now made of a second entrance examination to be held in Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles on May 14, 1914, to be given by the California State Civil Service Commission.

Candidates will be examined in literature and general information; history and current events. Education and experience are taken into consideration, and applicants are also graded as to personality and fitness for the work.

The regular course of this school is one year, and the next term will extend from September 23 to June.

The time before this examination is short, and those who may be interested are requested to communicate without delay with the State Librarian, for further information and the necessary application blanks.

Persons desiring to enter this examination must file completed applications not later than May 11, 1914.

NEMO WEEK

AT PHILPOTTS

The week commencing Monday, May 4th, will be known as "Nemo" week with all dealers in that excellent make of corset. The Philpott Dry Goods Co. are the sole agents for the "Nemo" Corset in Richmond, and will be pleased to have every lady of this city and adjacent districts, come to the store and have demonstrated to her the superior qualities of the "Nemo." There is a shape to fit every form and the adjustments are such that every curve of the body is perfectly fitted.

Competition between corset makers has brought out many good makes of corsets but, Mr. Philpott asserts the Nemo is the one that fills with certainty every requirement of the most carefully dressed woman.

The Philpott Dry Goods Co. carry all the most desirable styles and it is safe to say no woman need leave the store without securing the shape best suited to her form.

A visit to this store during the demonstration week of these corsets will be of value to every woman—for every woman desires to appear well.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

Look years younger! Use the old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance with a few days.

during 1914 and 1915, and the towns of this county ought to reap a great benefit, and also the agricultural communities! If you have any little local animosities, bury them—forget it! Get the people! Get the manufacturers! Get the payrolls! Get the money! Now is the time! DO IT NOW!

We find upon looking this screed over that there is not much Pittsburg news in it, but is more of a sermon than a collection of news items. However, it is intended mostly for Pittsburg readers, and we want to stir them up a bit. They seem to have a better town up there than they realize. We're coming up there in about a week and find out.

CONCORD

Having looked with longing eyes upon the small farms up around the Concord section for some years, this scribe made the remark a week or so ago that he intended grabbing about five acres up there some day or bust a pucker string, whereupon the Concord Transcript remarks that it hopes we get the acreage and still manage to keep the said pucker string intact. To get rich in Richmond and then settle down as a solace for advancing age upon a nice little five-acre tract near Concord seems to us to be about the acme of human happiness. What more should any reasonable or normal man want in this world? A little nest egg, and then plant things in this wonderful California soil and watch 'em grow! That is sure some happy stunt.

Concord is to have the big Fourth of July celebration of the county this year, and has got in on the ground floor for that purpose. The opening gun was fired a few evenings since when a mass meeting of the citizens was held and an executive committee was named to arrange details for a monster patriotic celebration. The committee is composed of Ben V. Soto, Ed. Slatery, Joe Rosa, H. E. Griffiths, C. Pacheco, Al Clanton, E. A. Work, P. M. Soto, Chas. Crenna, John Ott and John M. Lavezola. The plans include a parade, fireworks, dancing, band concerts, barbecue, oratory and all kinds of sports. A thousand dollars is already in sight for the blow-out and more coming up. The Oakland & Antioch railroad officials will string banners on their trains, announcing the celebration and will run special trains with low rates for the occasion. A flying squadron of automobiles is to be enlisted to visit the surrounding communities and press them into line for the big event. All right, fellows, come on down to Richmond and tell us all about it, and a regiment of us will enlist, same as we did for your carnival a couple of years ago.

WALNUT CREEK

At last Walnut Creek is going to incorporate, as it ought to have done a year ago. At a mass meeting held there recently steps were taken to this effect, and in writing up the meeting the Courier says: "Incorporate Walnut Creek At Once" was the slogan sounded in unmistakable terms at the special meeting of the Walnut Creek Business Men's Association called by President H. F. Spencer. The question of incorporation was discussed in all its phases. Those holding different opinions in regard to the benefits of incorporation were present and many converts made to the side of those who desire to see Walnut Creek incorporate and thereby progress.

The speaker of the evening was William J. Locke, the well known expert on municipal law from San Francisco.

It was moved by E. B. Anderson and seconded by R. N. Nougart that it is for the best interests of Walnut Creek that it should be incorporated. This motion was carried by a unanimous vote. A large delegation of Walnut Creek Business Men will accompany the committee on Monday, May 4, to be present when the petition is presented to the board of supervisors.

ALL OVER THE COUNTY

That a number of Contra Costa land owners over whose land the state highway from the county line along the bay shore to Martinez will pass are holding back the building of the road by their demand for exorbitant prices for the land necessary for the right of way was the startling information brought to light by the supervisors Monday night, says the Martinez San Ramon, Alamo, Danville and Gazette. Land owners are reported to be demanding from $500 to $1,000 per acre for the land necessary for the highway and in each of the instances which the officials have had called to their attention, the highest assessment on the land is $40 per acre. The supervisors received a communication from the Highway Commission in which the commission stated that when the rights of way are secured the work will be started.

A passing train picked up a rock with its wheels a few days ago and threw it with great force through the station window at Pinole, narrowly missing Miss Brandt, the station agent, and scaring her nearly into a fit.

A junk man was held up and robbed on a county road near Pinole a few days ago by tramps. His small change was taken.

The Walnut Creek Courier has started a movement to have the county buy Redwood Canyon for a public park, and the idea is being favorably discussed around the county. It is a beautiful park site and the scheme is not without merit. It will be brought to the attention of the county supervisors through the efforts of various boosters, and especially the newly organized Contra Costa Chamber of Commerce.

Tomorrow, May 2nd, will be a gala day in Danville. The Patrons of Husbandry are to give an entertainment, serve lunch, raise a flag and many events of an amusing character will be indulged in. Members of the order from Tassajara, San Ramon, Alamo, Danville and other points are to participate.

Brentwood has a new $50,000 hotel which is now installing a $5,000 heating plant. Byron has well, Byron has Harry Hammond, and that's enough.

The Spanish War Vets are to march on Martinez May 11-14th and capture it. It is understood that no resistance will be made. Sheriff Veale will salute with 21 guns from that P-shooter out on the court house lawn and Editors Rugg and Sharkey have already run up the white flag and surrendered. My goodness! Where is Martinez going to put all those people? They are coming from everywhere. No wonder a surrender of the town has been determined upon, as the advancing hosts are invincible both as to numbers and seasoned experience in battle. It will sure be some big doings and Richmond for one is going to be on hand and help eat some of the hard tack and baked beans and drink from the canteen any old fluid that happens to be in it.

We ran into County Auditor Mike Hurley on a ferry boat heading for San Francisco a day or two ago, and he was talking to a pretty woman at the time, too—Mrs. Laidlaw, wife of the editor of the Crockett Signal. Don't blame him—we were talking to her, too. Hurley has been in Contra Costa close to forty years now, and you couldn't drive him out of it with a gatling gun—sensible man.

Here is a county story that is full enough of romance to make a novel out of. A man named Hayball ran a bakery at Pittsburg and later moved to Martinez. His wife became infatuated with an employee, Johnson by name, and sent to Australia for her sister to come. Then Mrs. Hayball marries Johnson in San Francisco under the name of her sister, Mrs. Merritt. The sister helped out in the drama, and Hayball supposed the sister was Johnson's wife, instead of his own wife, as was the case. Finally the duped husband got on to the tangle and raised a row. In the meantime the sister had fallen in love with Hayball, and so out of the muddle finally got a divorce from his wife and married the sister, leaving the wife and Johnson to go their way. The final chapter came a few days ago when Hayball committed suicide by inhaling gas in their apartments in San Francisco.

Stopping a want ad in the Record-Herald, to save money, is like stopping a clock to save time.
